EPIDIA

Project Description:

Epidia means Esports pidia. Esports, a short form of electronic sports, is an international event where every kind of electronic game is played and so many players participate in this big event to conquer the desired and respected prize. Esports pidia is the number one information source for your favorite titles in esports. We will gather and store all the information about the Esports games, players, and the teams in one place. Schedule of events, ranking of the teams, and other news will be published. It will be very helpful for the users because they will be able to see all Esports players and ranking in one place. Though it is a web-based application, for security purposes, there will be an option for users which is to log in. Also, users can see the features of the merchandise, interview, and gallery system by logging in to our system. Users also can participate in quizzes and give ratings to their favorite games. Users can give our webpage feedback so that we can solve their problems by visiting our webpage. There are also some features for admin. Admin can log in through admin login and see all the feedback. Also, in the future, we will make further changes to this project's login and user security system and also try to implement some features for players.

Project Folder Structure:

Here is our project structure :

The screenshot displays the Visual Studio Code interface for a project named 'EPIDIA'. The Explorer sidebar on the left shows the project structure, including folders for 'css' and 'less', and various image files (A1.jpg, A2.jpg, A3.jpg, AB.jpg, AL1.jpg, AL2.jpg). The main editor area shows the content of 'Home.php', which is an HTML file. The code includes a DOCTYPE declaration, HTML and head tags with meta information (charset, http-equiv, viewport, title, and a link to 'Home.css'). The body contains a navigation bar with a list of links to various PHP files: 'GameTeam.php', 'Schedule.php', 'News.php', 'Rank.php', 'AdLogin.php', 'Login.php', 'SignUp.php', 'index.php', and 'About.php'.
